TWO UNACCOUNTED FOR IN DISASTER TO LAKE STEAMER

Investigation Of Sinking Of The Wisconsin Started Today

BULLETIN.

Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 30.—(AP)—Sixteen men lost their lives when the steamer Wisconsin went down off the Kenosha shore yesterday. This was definitely determined today by the testimony of Harvey Lyon, Purser of the ill fated ship, at a federal investigation here.

Lyon testified that there were 71 members of the passenger-freight ship crew and four passengers. Seventy-five as the total number aboard is "sure," he said. Of the 16 dead, nine bodies have been recovered. Fifty-nine persons were rescued, 19 of them with injuries or suffering from exposure.

Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 30.—(AP)—The federal government, the county and the Goodrich Steamship Company joined today in an investigation into the sinking of the steamship Wisconsin four miles off this port yesterday with the loss of at least nine lives.

Fred J. Meno, Supervising Inspector of the Federal Steamship Inspection Office of Detroit, had charge of the inquiry for the government. He said he would begin at once the questioning of witnesses.

It was pointed out that the boat was less than an hour out from Kenosha harbor when it first began radiating distress signals; there were lifeboats and life preservers for all; and the radio was working up to a short time before the vessel was abandoned.

Two Unaccounted For.

As far as officials were able to state the Wisconsin carried a crew of 70 men and four passengers. Nine lives were lost, including those of Capt. Douglas Morrison and Chief Engineer Julius Buschmann. Sixty-three persons, including the passengers, were rescued. This leaves two persons unaccounted for.

The Purser's list, the only official one went down with the ship. The Purser, Harvey Lyons, was positive, however, there were 74 persons aboard.

The Wisconsin was inspected and pronounced entirely seaworthy September 17 last. It had sailed the lakes in all kinds of weather for 49 years, and was regarded as one of the staunchest of lake craft.

The cargo of packet merchandise which went down with the ship was valued at $300,000. The ship itself was worth $100,000.

Victims Recovered.

Although nearly a score of those rescued yesterday by Rodin and Kenosha Coast Guardsmen and a Chambers fishing tug received hospital treatment, all were reported fully recovered today from the effects of exposure and shock.

Sinking of the Wisconsin was the second lake tragedy of a week to occur in the same general location. The car ferry Milwaukee went down off Racine, Wis., Oct. 22, with a loss of 38 lives.

One of the worst of all lake disasters was not many miles south of the spot where the Wisconsin sank yesterday. That was the sinking of the Lady Elgin of Winnetka, Ill., Sept. 8, 1899, when 300 persons were drowned. The Sea Bird burned and went down off Waukegan, Ill., just below Kenosha, in April, 1863, and 73 were drowned.

Arbiter Of Claims Commission Is Dead

Washington, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Edwin B. Parker, arbiter of the American-German Mixed Claims Commission, died here today.

Judge Parker had been ill for several weeks but as late as yesterday it was said at his home that his condition was improving and that he was believed to be on the way to recovery. He was 61 years old and had a distinguished career as an umpire in the settlement of international disputes. Born in Shelby county, Missouri, September 7, 1868, Mr. Parker attended the University of Texas and later practiced law at Houston.

Parker was a dollar-a-year-man during the World War and assisted in the organization of the War Industries Board of which he was made a member.

He served as chairman of the United States Liquidation Commission after the armistice and had been "Arbiter of the Mixed Claims Commission" since 1923.

The work of settling the alien property claims growing out of the World War placed a tremendous amount of work upon him and was believed by his friends to have hastened his death.

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

DR. MURPHY HONORED

Dr. E. S. Murphy of this city was yesterday honored by being elected a vice president of the Illinois Tuberculosis & Public Health Assn. at its annual convention held at Joliet.

C. C. DIRECTORS MEET

A meeting of the Board of Directors, Advisory Council and chairmen of the different committees of the Chamber of Commerce, will be held in the Chamber of Commerce office, Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS OUT

A short circuit in the cable furnishing electric current to the city traffic lights on Galena avenue at First and Second streets has rendered them useless for the past two days. Electricians today were attempting to locate the trouble and it was expected that the lights would be in working order again by tomorrow.

POURING BRIDGE FLOOR

The Widell Company this morning started pouring the floor of the new Peoria avenue bridge, work having been started from the north shore pier. As soon as sufficient headway is made on the pouring of the four inch wearing surface which will form the floor of the bridge, the work of pouring the side rails will be started.

GET THREE GESE TODAY

Prof. D. C. Austin and Dr. Henry McCoy were walking with chests expended today and both were answering questions about successful hunting. The high school manual training instructor and the physician set out early this morning for the Green River bottoms and returned about 8 o'clock with three fine specimens of Canada geese, the first to be taken by local hunters this season.

BUY STERLING STORE

Mr. and Mrs. Will Whitebread of Pontiac are now located in Sterling after spending several months in Dixon with relatives and friends. They purchased the property at the corner of Fifth street and Avenue G in that city, a nice home and extra lot, with a neighborhood grocery store building, having purchased the interests of Mrs. Cora Tippet. The Whitebreads will conduct the store.

WAS FALSE ALARM

Chief Van Bibber and Officer Gleason were called to the Harry Stephan residence on Depot avenue last evening about 9 o'clock where it was reported that it was believed prowlers had gained entrance to the basement. The officers conducted a careful investigation and found that the house had not been entered. Mr. and Mrs. Stephan are with a party of friends in South Dakota visiting and enjoying a hunting trip.

THINK NAME "PHONE"

A night AP dispatch from Urbana was to the effect that "Bert Toland, farm hand of Dixon, driver of the automobile which collided with two others near here Sunday, injuring 11 persons, today pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving. Police Magistrate Earl Meenach released him on $500 bond, deferring sentence until he could interview the two other drivers."

Dixon officials are of the opinion that the name is fictitious.

Former Dixon Man Died Very Suddenly

Clayton Campbell of this city has received word of the death of his brother, R. C. Campbell of Chicago, who passed away Monday. His death was due to a sudden heart attack. Mr. Campbell was a former resident of Dixon and was born at Waukegan, where he spent his young manhood. He was a graduate of the Dixon Normal College and studied law in the offices of the late Hon. Sol Betha. Later he moved to Chicago to make his home and was united in marriage to Miss Emma Miller.

He was a member of the Chicago Board of Underwriters and was the head of the firm of R. S. Campbell & Co., real estate and loans who had offices at 402 West Madison street, Chicago. Surviving to mourn his sudden passing are his widow, one son, Earl, of Chicago, one brother Clayton Campbell of this city and one sister, Dena Campbell of Mobile, Ala. Funeral services will be conducted from his late home, 358 South Hamilton avenue, Chicago Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Save Fishing Boat

Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 30.—(UP)—The fishing tug Selma, which went aground five miles south of here today, was taken off a short time later by a Coast Guard cutter and made Kenosha under its own power.

None of the crew of two was injured. The Selma was driven aground by high waves in a dense blanket of fog.

NEGRO SLASHED IN ARM DURING FIGHT LAST NIGHT

Police Seeking Chas. Red Alleged Wielder Of Deadly Weapon

An argument said to have started over loaned household effects, led to a slashing late last night on East River street when Charles Red is alleged to have inflicted a deep gash in the right arm of Memorin Pierre. Immediately following the cutting, Red jumped into an automobile and drove east on route 2. Pierre went to the police station where he reported to Officer Harry Jones and was removed at once to the Dixon public hospital, where his cuts were dressed.

According to Pierre's story, he loaned household effects to Mr. and Mrs. Red when they came to Dixon during the summer and took up their residence on East River street. Among the articles loaned was a bed. Late last night when returning home, Pierre observed a truck loading up household goods at the Red home and he went to investigate. Pierre asked Red for the bed and the latter tried to trade a heating stove which Pierre claims was not paid for, and keep the bed. Pierre would not agree to the trade and Red became abusive.

Followed Fist Fight

It appears that a few blows were exchanged and Red, it is said, to have started wielding a knife, inflicting a deep wound on the right arm and lesser cuts about the face. When Pierre started west on River street, Red jumped into his automobile and drove east.

After Pierre had reported the slashing to Officer Jones about 1 o'clock this morning, the sheriff's office at Oregon was notified and asked to halt Red who was believed to be hurrying to Rockford to escape arrest. He is believed to have left the Black Hawk Trail paving and taken a circuitous route evading Oregon, as the Oregon officials failed to find any trace of him.

This morning Pierre swore out a warrant before Justice J. O. Shaulis in police court and the officers were attempting to locate the alleged wielder of the knife.

Winter Wheat Shows Good Stand In Ill.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 30.—(UP)—Despite the first snow fall of the season, which hampered farm work generally in the state, some progress was made in harvesting of corn, a crop and weather survey issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture here revealed today.

The snow fall, which measured two inches at Springfield and eight inches at Sycamore, caused considerable damage to fruit trees in the northern section of Illinois. The snow was heavy, and the weight of it broke limbs off the trees.

There was a killing frost in the north and central portions of the state at the close of last week. There was very little green corn, however. Winter wheat has made good progress and shows a good stand.

SENATORS LEARN DETAILS OF CONFERENCE WHICH RESULTED IN HARDING'S NOMINATION

A Participant Therein Tells Senate Lobby Committee Of It

Washington, Oct. 30.—(UP)—A detailed account of the famous hotel room conference at the 1920 Republican National Convention in Chicago which brought about the nomination of the late President Harding was given to the Senate lobby investigating committee today by a participant, Joseph R. Grundy, Pennsylvania Manufacturers' legislative agent in Washington and Republican campaign fund collector.

Denying that Harry Sinclair, the oil man now in jail, the late Jake Hamon, Oklahoma oil man; Harry M. Daugherty, later Attorney General or A. B. Fall, recently convicted of bribery in office, were present at the conference, Grundy said the late Senator Lodge (Repub., Mass.) opened the proceedings and after outlining the situation, suggested that "we should bring about the nomination of Harding as soon as we could."

Senator Walsh, Dem. Mont., pointed out that the four A. M. papers stated Harding would be nominated.

Is Sure of List

"If they did know what they were talking about," said Grundy. He named as the conferees Senators Lodge, Smoot, Utah; Warren, Indiana; former Senators Calder and Wadsworth, N. Y.; the late Senator McCormick, Illinois; and Brandegee, Connecticut; George Harvey, former Ambassador to Great Britain, and himself.

"I am quite sure that is the list," he said. "I would have known if any one else was there."

He denied that late Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania had made the selection of candidate, but was "very sympathetic toward former President Harding."

Penrose was so seriously ill that nobody talked to him," said Grundy. "Don't you know that a private wire ran from the room of John T. King at the Congress hotel in Chicago to the bedroom of Senator Penrose at Philadelphia?" asked Senator Walsh, Dem. Mont.

Private Telephone

Not only a private wire but a private telephone. But nobody talked over that wire to Senator Penrose, was too ill."

"Don't you know that Mr. King's secretary has written a story saying King talked to Penrose?" "Oh, he probably talked to Penrose's secretary."

"How do you know?" "I have it from the secretary of the Senator."

Grundy said he approved the action of Senator Bingham, Rep., Conn., in taking Charles L. Eyanon of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association into the secret meetings of the Senate Finance committee.

"You said you would like to have 100 Eyanons as young men coming along," said Caraway. "Are you going to leave an endowment fund for starting a lobbying university when you die?"

"I can't say. We will have to wait until the chickens are hatched. If the stock market keeps on as it is, we may not have much to leave."

Bullet-Riddled Body Of Man Found In Car

Nashville, Ill., Oct. 30.—(UP)—Authorities today were attempting to identify the bullet riddled body of a man, which was found wrapped in a blanket in the rear seat of an automobile near here.

The automobile, which was parked in a tourist camp, was almost new, having been driven only 800 miles.

Two boys, Wilbert McMillan and Ray Norton, both of Nashville, discovered the body, and immediately sounded an alarm.

Police who viewed the body expressed an opinion that the man possibly had been killed elsewhere.

The machine was splashed with mud, indicating, they said, that it might have engaged in a chase with another automobile.

A label in his clothing was stamped St. Louis. All other marks of identification were missing.

Police expressed an opinion that the man might have been the victim of gang violence.

Kahn Declines Job As Campaign Treas.

New York, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Because of the "divided reception" that greeted his selection as treasurer of the Republican National Campaign Committee, Otto H. Kahn was declined the post.

Announcement of his selection had been made by Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire at a dinner last Thursday given by Jeremiah Milbank for Claudius H. Huston, Republican National Chairman.

Addresses made at the dinner, a private affair, were interpreted by newspapers as indicating a declaration of war by the Senatorial Campaign Committee against Republican Senators who oppose President Hoover on the tariff and other policies.

EXPERT HANDLING OF AIRPLANE PREVENTED TRAGEDY

Pilot Landed Passenger Plane Safely Amid Severe Storm

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 30.—(UP)—To a pilot's expert handling of his ship and the traditional luck of a rabbit's foot was attributed today the safe landing of the missing Western Air Express passenger liner during a blinding snowstorm in a desolate region near the Arizona line yesterday.

After planes had been forced by squalls to abandon search for the missing ship, Pilot James I. Doles, Los Angeles, maneuvered the craft, bearing his two assistants and two passengers to a safe landing late yesterday in a light snowstorm, more than 24 hours overdue from Los Angeles.

Doles, his co-pilot, Allan C. Barrie, Burbank, Calif.; R. L. Britten, Los Angeles, Steward, and the passengers, Dr. A. W. Ward, San Francisco, nationally known dentist, and W. E. Merz, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., were none the worse for their experience.

Encountered Blizzard

The plane encountered a blizzard near Trechado, N. M., yesterday morning, and it was only through Doles' expert airmanship he was able to bring the huge three-motored Fokker to a safe landing in a narrow meadow blanketed by eight inches of snow.

No signs of life were found in the region, Doles explained, and the crew and passengers huddled beside the plane until dusk, when they were forced by the intense cold to set out with flashlights to find shelter. About a mile and a half away they located a deserted cabin, where they built a fire and spent the night.

"We weren't lost—not for a minute," Doles said. "But the snow storm did blow us off our course."

"But the main thing is this rabbit foot. This little fellow was down in the snow at my feet when I first got out of the plane and I picked him up."

Praise for Pilot.

Dr. Ward and Werz said their good fortune was due to Doles' expert landing, adding:

"But a rabbit's foot and a half frozen rabbit brought us safely to Albuquerque."

Britten was loud in his acclaim of a rabbit's foot which he carried on his vest.

"I bought it the day the T. A. T. plane crashed," he said.

Dr. Ward chuckled today over his ability as a cook. Through his efforts over a dilapidated coal stove, the derelicts sat down to a belated dinner of stew after the forced landing.

The doctor melted snow to get water and added flour and beans found in the abandoned cabin.

Woman Heard Them

Miss Bessie Mason, who lives on a ranch near where the plane was brought down, surprised the adventurers early yesterday morning.

"Miss Mason's coming was our biggest surprise," Doles said. "When the motors were cut off, she thought we had crashed. Then she set out to look for the 'remains.' Barrie went back with her and brought back some bacon and egg sandwiches. The food sure looked good to us."

"We were forty-five miles from the nearest telephone."

Dr. Ward planned to return to the west coast today by plane. Merz, who was enroute to New York after a world cruise, said he would probably continue on the plane to Kansas City today.

Capone Must Serve Sentence Of a Year

Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—(UP)—It seemed probable today that Alphonse "Scarface" Capone, Chicago gang chieftain and his bodyguard, Frank Cline, will continue unwilling guests of the state of Pennsylvania until about next St. Patrick's Day.

The Superior Court late yesterday refused Capone a writ of habeas corpus, ruling he must serve his sentence of one year for carrying concealed deadly weapons.

The court held that Capone himself closed the door to liberty by withdrawing his appeal from the original sentence on October 8.

Kansas City Banker Took His Own Life

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 30.—(UP)—John D. Schwitzgebel, 45, son of the vice president of the Commerce Trust Company, died today, the victim of bullet wounds self-inflicted because of financial worries.

Schwitzgebel shot himself twice above the heart yesterday. Friends attributed his act to recent financial reverses although his father, Henry C. Schwitzgebel, declared he had not suffered through the crash in the stock market.

Sparks of State News From Special Wires to Telegraph

OVERWORK CAUSED DEATH. Centalla, Ill., Oct. 30.—(AP)—A coroner's jury here late yesterday returned a verdict that John Yorkin, 52, Glenridge coal miner who died suddenly yesterday morning, died from "over-exertion," while at work in the mine of the Marion County Coal Company near here Monday.

SMALLPOX IN BENTON

Benton, Ill., Oct. 30.—(UP)—School and health authorities joined today to check the spread of smallpox, 60 cases of which are prevalent, according to a statement.

Compulsory vaccination orders have been made in schools, which together with churches, theaters and other public gathering places may be closed.

MENTAL DISEASES 'GROWING

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 30.—(UP)—Mental disease is increasing in Illinois much more rapidly than population and the solution of the problem lies in training psychiatrists to find a cure for dementia praecox. Rodney H. Brandon, State Superintendent of Public Welfare, told welfare workers in conference here.

"At this rate," he said, "it is only a matter of time until we will all be in the insane asylum, and the Governor will be the managing officer."

NO STUDENT RALLY

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 30.—(UP)—No student rally will precede departure of the University of Illinois football team for Evanston Friday, it was announced by University officials today.

The team will leave here at noon and officials said an organized "sendoff meeting" would interrupt classes. Several thousand students will, however, leave here Friday evening and early Saturday on three special trains to attend the game with Northwestern Saturday.

KILLED BY DETECTIVE

Waukegan, Oct. 30.—(UP)—One man was killed and another wounded here early today by A. W. DeGroff, railroad detective, who was watching for bandits who have removed goods valued at $20,000 from the Soo Line freight office at Lake Villa. The dead man has not been identified. After the shooting, the wounded man escaped.

A few hours later, Fred Willis Chicago, was arrested at Deerfield, Ill. He was wounded in the back but declared a motorist with whom he had an argument, shot him. Police are investigating Willis' story.

HELD FOR SHOOTING

Mt. Vernon, Ill., Oct. 30.—(AP)—Lee Miller, 32, of Butler, Mo., a hard road worker, is in Mt. Vernon hospital in critical condition from a wound in the abdomen as a result of a shooting early today at the Grand Hotel.

Police are holding Robert Stephenson as Miller's assailant. Information given authorities was that the men had been drinking and that the shooting followed a quarrel. The men were said to have quarreled on Monday night over some woman at a dance hall and Stephenson was said at that time to have drawn a revolver, but he and Miller settled their trouble amicably.

MURDER TRIAL UNDER WAY

Duquoin, Ill., Oct. 30.—(UP)—The trial of Dan Gully, charged with the murders of Delbert Morris and his younger brother after a drunken brawl, was under way in Circuit Court here today after the defendant was denied a continuance.

Gully, according to police, killed the bodies of the Morris brothers with fire from a revolver after an all night drinking bout in his home.

Both Gully and his daughter were wounded in the shooting. The bodies of the brothers were found the morning after the slaying in the yard of Gully's home.

The accused previously had been ordered from the county because of alleged liquor operations.

TO SETTLE MILK STRIKE

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 30.—(UP)—An arbitration board has been appointed here to bring about a settlement of the disagreement between the University of Illinois Dairy Department and the Champaign County Milk Producers Association over delivery of milk to the department, it was announced here today.

The controversy arose last Friday when the county association directed its members to stop deliveries to the University Dairy because the school was not a member of the organization.

University officials said today they could not join the organization legally, but expected some arrangement could be effected by the arbitrary board within a few days.

EXCHANGE WILL NOT OPEN TILL NOON TOMORROW

And Will Be Closed All Friday and Saturday Governors Say

BULLETIN.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The Chicago Stock Exchange will open at 11 A. M. Thursday for a three-hour session and will be closed all day Friday and Saturday.

Announcement of the abbreviated trading schedule for the week was made from the exchange rostrum by President R. Arthur Wood and was greeted by a storm of cheers from the trading floor.

New York, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Governors of the New York Stock Exchange voted to delay the opening tomorrow until noon, and to close the exchange on Friday and Saturday. The exchange will be open Monday, the day preceding election day.

The Governors, in an official statement said:

"The volume of trading in the last week has been so enormous that the organization of the stock exchange houses have reached a point of complete physical exhaustion. Most of those employees and those of the stock clearing corporation have been on almost continuous duty for days and nights past and many of them have been without sleep for 48 to 72 hours."

"The Governors have felt under an absolute necessity to recognize the

Crash In Ad Section

New York, Oct. 30.—(UP)—The classified advertisement sections of New York newspapers today offered opportunities for "expensive" bargains.

Five used Rolls Royces were offered for sale, including one in which the advertiser said "Must sell, will sacrifice."

A platinum diamond with 87 marquise diamonds, "recently purchased" was offered by the owner who "must sacrifice immediately."

purely physical and mechanical conditions and to afford the overworked staff sufficient time to recuperate and recover their strength.

"The Governors believe that the shorter hours and the two days of holidays, as arranged, will put the working organizations again in good condition and contribute materially to a more orderly and effective handling of all the trading centering on the exchange."

"This line of procedure has been adopted after consultation with and approval by the so-called banking group."

The announcement was made from the stock exchange rostrum by Richard Whitney, a vice-president of the exchange, and was greeted with prolonged cheers.

BY ELMER C. WALZER
United Press Financial Editor

New York, Oct. 30.—(UP)—The stock market came back smashing today as Wall Street re-echoed cheers that the tremendous weight of the bear market had at last been broken.

Prices jumped from 1 to 30 points. The market swung along at a 10,000-900-shares-a-day rate. Tickers were more than an hour behind actual floor sales.

Throughout the busy financial world of lower New York smiles replaced gloom, and excited buying of bargains left from yesterday's terrific break took the place of rejected selling.

Within the first hour, the new forced liquidation brought on by yesterday's 16,000,000 share day, was gone, brokers said, and the market turned upwards retrieving some of the tremendous losses stocks have suffered the past week. Sales to noon totaled 5,576,300, compared to 9,378,200 at that time yesterday.

A. T. & T. Feature

American Telephone & Telegraph featured today's upswing, the stock advancing 26 points to 231. It held around that level after the first hour's spurt forward, but at noon had dropped back to

Curb Review

New York, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Prices moved irregularly higher in wild gyrations today. Leading utilities made sweeping rallies, but not all gains held as profit taking was in huge volume on bulges.

Also, several of the more volatile issues were under severe pressure for a time in the morning the failure of Lynch & Co., the second curb house fatality this week, was somewhat unsettling. Trading was again in enormous volume, the ticker falling more than an hour behind the market by early afternoon.

BUSINESS NEED HAVE NO FEARS OFFICIALS SAY

Stock Exchange Collapse No Reflection of Prosperity

Washington, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Official Washington clung steadfastly today to its opinion that American business need expect no adverse results from the collapse of Stock Exchange prices.

Such a view was expressed by Dr. Julius Klein, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, in a widely broadcast address last night, which is understood to represent the attitude of the administration in general, and coincides with President Hoover's previous statement on the business situation.

No action had been taken by the Federal Reserve Board, in the face of yesterday's precipitous decline in security prices, although the board met with Secretary Mellon attending.

The break in stock prices was attributed to the party in power by Senator Tydings, Democrat, Maryland, in a statement issued through Democratic National Headquarters. It asserted that "in most cases there is the ironical realization that these great leaders who a year ago were yelling 'prosperity' are trying to find a scapegoat in the face of a 15 billion dollar loss in one week of American life."

Dr. Klein cites numerous circumstances to support his view that American business is standing squarely upon a firm, sound basis.

The purchasing power of the nation is at a high level, he said, and may be expected to continue so; the demand for commodities has not been affected by the stock market collapse; employment is on the increase; per capita production booming; stocks of manufactured goods have not piled up and average commodity prices have maintained consistent levels.

"Regardless of regrettable speculative uncertainties," he asserted, "the industrial and commercial structure of the nation is sound."

Grape Juice Seized By Federal Agents

St. Louis, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The Colony Vintage Company, a distributor of grape juice, and defendant in a breach of contract suit in Federal court last July charging the product failed to come up to promises, was raided by United States prohibition agents yesterday. A quantity of grape juice, which James Dillon, deputy prohibition administrator, said tested as high as 97 per cent alcohol, was seized as well as Jamaica ginger and other alcoholic extracts.

Included in the grape juice seizures were two kegs of 30 gallons each which bore the name of Walter Damosch, 146 East Sixty-First Street, New York City, and was labelled Moselle grape juice. The labels also said each keg was costing the purchaser $112.50. Dillon said he believed the shipment was meant for the noted musical director.

William Davis, president of the company, was ordered to appear before U. S. Commissioner Burke today to give bond.

In Federal court last July Davis showed a letter from United States Senator Arthur R. Gould of Maine, in which Gould stated he was obtaining results from a cask of the Colony Vintage Company product and expected it to turn into wine.

Stayed Out Nights: Is Sent To Prison

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 30.—(UP)—Because she violated a court's injunction that she be in her home early every night and keep within the confines of the Masonic temple, Mrs. Mabel Gambrell, 22, must serve an indeterminate sentence in Chester State prison.

Mrs. Gambrell, convicted on a forgery charge last May, was admitted to probation on condition that she avoid remaining out late at night and was forbidden to leave the county without permission of a probation officer.

Yesterday before Circuit Judge James Baldwin she admitted she had visited Springfield and had failed to keep regular hours as promised and the court ordered her probation revoked.

Must Have Lights

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 30.—(UP)—Police chiefs of the state Highway Department and of Secretary of State William J. Straton's office have combined to enforce the state law regulating the use of tail lights and head lights.

Phil Harmon, chief of the force working out of Straton's office, and Ralph Moody, Highway Police Chief, announced that all motorists driving without proper tail light and head lights will be arrested and subject to fine.

ROSENWALD TO SAVE WORKERS IN STOCK DEAL

Pledges His Fortune to Guarantee Employees' Accounts

Chicago, Oct. 30.—(UP)—In a copyrighted article, the Herald-Examiner said today that Julius Rosenwald, Chairman of the Board of Sears, Roebuck & Company, has guaranteed the stock market accounts of more than 40,000 employees of the company.

He has pledged his personal fortune of millions of dollars to prevent any employee facing the danger of having his savings swept away, the story said.

The Herald-Examiner story said Rosenwald's decision was reached immediately after the disastrous plunge of stock prices last Thursday and that on that day he called a conference of company officials.

Among those present were his son, L. Essing, Vice President of the Company; Gen. Robert E. Wood, President; O. Lewis, Treasurer, and John Higgins, another Vice President.

Higgins was entrusted with carrying out the capitalist's plan.

Higgins was quoted as saying: "My first step was to look up the accounts of all our employees, not only in Chicago but in all the other communities where we have branches or offices. In every case in which we found that an employee is carrying an account on which, in this bear market, his margin has grown too narrow for safety, our procedure is to communicate with the broker, handling the account."

"The broker is asked whether additional collateral is needed to safeguard the account, and we simply put up the collateral, so that our employees shall be able to weather the storm."

Higgins said not many employees would have to resort to the proffered assistance.

Through Higgins it was learned Rosenwald adopted a similar procedure during the depression in 1921, when he pledged about $1,600,000. At that time he made the company a gift of $5,000,000 worth of his own stock and pledged $20,000,000 more of his personal fortune to see the company through.

Spectacular Fire In Chicago Loop Today

Chicago, Oct. 30.—(AP)—A spectacular fire early today swept through a four-story building at Madison and Clark Streets, arousing guests in nearby hotels and causing $50,000 damage.

Among the places damaged by the fire was the gymnasium of Kid Howard, which has been the training quarters of many famous pugilists. The gymnasium was on the third floor. Two small theaters on the ground floor, both of which were closed, a jewelry store, and a haberdashery were also damaged.

Dozens of pieces of fire apparatus were summoned by extra alarms. Guests in the Morrison Hotel, directly across the street from the building, were aroused, while some guests in a smaller hotel back of the burning building were forced from their rooms by smoke.

The fire started in the basement, supposedly in rubbish, and quickly swept upward.

SNOWS IN WEST, TORNADO HITS HOUSTON, TEX.

Fourteen are Marooned In Summit House On Pike Peak

Colorado Springs, Colo., Oct. 30.—(UP)—Fourteen persons were marooned today in the Summit House and Glen Cove on Pike's Peak by snow drifts eight feet deep.

Plans were made to rescue the party when the storm, which swept over Denver and the eastern Rocky Mountain region early today abated. None is in danger, it was reported, ample provisions for several days being available.

Winty blasts brought the first heavy snow of the season to Wyoming. Colorado, New Mexico and as far south as El Paso, Texas, paralyzing traffic in cities and delaying air transportation. A 12-inch snowfall was reported at Trinidad, Colo.

The temperature in the Rocky Mountain region today hovered around 15 degrees above zero.

TORNADO IN TEXAS.

Houston, Tex., Oct. 30.—(AP)—One man was perhaps fatally injured and two women and two men hurt in a tornado which struck the edge of Houston today.

Half a dozen houses were demolished, barns and garages were wrecked and several dwellings were uninhabited. E. S. Rosecrans won first; Francis Keegan second; and Rev. T. J. Flynn won the consolation prize. For the ladies prizes at bridge Mrs. Frank Gorham won first; Mrs. Pat Curran second; and Mrs. A. H. Frazz consolation. At five hundred Mrs. S. Lonergan won first prize for the ladies; Mrs. James Haley won second; and Mrs. Clarence Kelly won the consolation prize. For the gentlemen at five hundred A. J. Henkel won the first prize; A. L. Carroll won the second prize and C. E. Poisel won the consolation prize. All the prizes were beautiful and well worth receiving. The neat sum realized by St. Anne's Guild will be spent in the benefit of the church. It proved a most delightful and successful evening, everyone attended having an enjoyable time.

THE TALE OF A LION OF LONG AGO

IN days that now seem long ago. In distant parts where such things grow.

There lived a lion, big and strong. And quick and brave, with mane so long.

You couldn't see his neck at all. Whose roar rang through the forest tall.

His beauty, strength, agility Made him a king, who wandered free Wherever he might wish to be.

Now, in the land where he was born, A cactus grew which bore a thorn.

Larger than you have ever seen. Unless to Mexico you've been.

Or in the far west desert lands. Where they grow big among the sands.

Now, this brave lion one day went Among the cacti, where he meant

To look for food, as I suppose (Though as to that nobody knows),

And got a sharp thorn in his foot. Where it should never have been put.

He walked about for quite a while, Pull many a weary, weary mile.

Until one day he met a lad With cheerful heart and courage glad.

Who, noticing the lion's plight, And thinking that perhaps he might

Be of some help, at once drew near (Without a trace or thought of fear,

Picked up the foot, drew out the thorn.

And, so it came, that happy morn That with the lion all was well—

This much the ancient stories tell. The lion felt the tender care.

This love for animals most rare. While healed his wound, and learned

To know This kind lad who had helped him so.

Now, after many days had passed, Men captured this brave lion at last.

And kept him without food that he To prey and eat might ready be.

And at this time it happened true, The kindly lad was captured, too.

And, as it happened, that he might be led Into the place where lions fed.

But, list to what I tell you now: The Love which rules would not allow

The tenderness, the care, the love—All gracious gifts come from above—

To be rewarded in that way. So, it fell out that on the day

When he was to the lion shown, He well remembered was, and known.

The lion, starved though he might be, Just licked his hand and let him free.

And when the rulers this deed saw, They set aside their cruel law.

And let both freely go their way. For all the love they'd shown that day.

Nor can there ever be a fear Where love is there to guide and cheer.

Broiled Veal Balls, Serving Six
1 pound ground veal steak
1 egg

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion.

1 tablespoon chopped parsley or green pepper
2 tablespoons butter or bacon fat.

Mix all the ingredients, excepting the butter. Shape into six cakes 1 inch thick. Spread the tops with butter. Place on a shallow pan and broil for 15 minutes. Turn several times to permit even cooking.

Steamed Chocolate Pudding
(Leftover can be reheated)
4 tablespoons fat
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 squares chocolate, melted.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 egg
1 cup milk
2 1/2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder.

Cream the fat and sugar. Add the rest of the ingredients and beat for 2 minutes. Half fill greased molds, cover tightly and steam for 2 hours. Unmold and serve warm.

Creamy Sauce
(Served on any steamed or baked pudding)
1 egg
5 teaspoons vanilla
1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar.

1 cup hot milk.
Beat the egg and butter, add the extracts, salt and sugar. Beat for 2 minutes. Add the hot milk. Mix and serve at once.

Any chopped meat can be made into balls and croilled and it makes a very palatable dish for luncheon, supper or dinner.

Steamed puddings can be made prior to serving; they can be cooled, stored in a cold place and when desired for serving they can be quickly heated in a double boiler.

Madame Curie Is In Washington Today

Washington, Oct. 30—(AP)—Madame Curie, co-discoverer of radium was, in Washington today to become the recipient of the means of purchasing a gram of the precious metal to be used in a continuation of her research work.

A guest of President and Mrs. Hoover at the White House, the tiny woman who accepted as the legacy of her husband the complementary studies prompted by their isolation of the element, today was honored by the National Academy of Sciences.

A draft for $50,000 encased in silver, had been made out to her for presentation this afternoon at ceremonies including an address by the President. It's purpose was the purchase of a gram of radium to be used in the Curie Polish Cancer Hospital and Laboratory in Warsaw.

Inasmuch as radium is no longer extracted from American ores, arrangements to present her with the radium itself were foregone in order that it might be bought abroad.

In deference to Madame Curie, who has not enjoyed the best of health recently, no elaborate social functions had been planned.

O. Westgor Gives Freeport Program

Orville Westgor, former leader of the Dixon Theater orchestra, is mentioned as giving the program in the following item from the Freeport. The Blue Triangle Club of the Y. W. C. A. had a most interesting club meeting last evening. Halloween decorations prevailed at the dinner and all the girls donned gay paper caps.

Twenty-three club members and three guests heard the splendid program which was furnished by Mr. Westgor, violinist, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Vance. Mr. Westgor is a newcomer in Freeport but his playing is already making a name for him. His concert was a very delightful one and the club girls were also interested in his demonstration of the "Fiddlette," the instrument which he teaches in the schools.

ENGLISH VILLAGE BARMAN HAS PREMIERE IN PULPIT—

Banbury, Eng.—(UP)—During the absence of the regular preacher, Miss Varney Hancock Cashmore, 26, shingled-haired barmann of the Marlborough Arms, conducted the services at the Unitarian church and created a favorable impression among the congregation.

Miss Cashmore is president of the Banbury Young People's guild, which encourages young people to conduct services. She has studied elocution and is said to have a fine voice.

"It has always been my ambition to be a preacher," she said after her first appearance in the pulpit. "I like to talk and do not feel the least bit nervous in the pulpit."

At the Marlboro Arms, Miss Cashmore combines her barmann's work with household duties.

New Fashions Oust Old Flapper Slouch

BY DIANA MERWIN
(Associated Press Fashion Editor)

Paris—(AP)—The flapper slouch, sometimes called the caterpillar crawl, is a thing of the past believe clothes creators here.

New styles call for flat backs, chests up and hips firm. The old lolling postures, don't-give-a-damn slump and who-cares curve of the back and torso "date" every woman who indulges in them, chic couturiers are counseling their clients.

The new stance is a free and supple carriage with shoulders squared but not rigid, hips well under control, head back and chin slightly in the air. The fashionable new walk exposes the curves of the body without exaggerating them. Too much nonchalance is bad for chic now that "ladylike" clothes are the Parisian ideal.

Such a small thing as a coat collar is having a decided influence on improved carriage among women who buy at the most exclusive houses. It trims wrap-around coats but instead of terminating just above the hip to be held in the well-known left handed clutch of the past few seasons, the new collar ends high under the left arm and is gripped by the upper arm.

The coat closes well around toward the back, on the left side, thus carrying out the princess, body-hugging lines the best designers are promoting. To wear these revealing lines correct carriage is essential.

Another effect of the coats with the new collars is a change in the form of handbags. With the left arm occupied in holding the coat closed it is harder to carry a flat envelope bag under the left arm, its usual place.

Handbags with straps and handles are coming back into vogue as a result, and some designers are making an effort to revive the old reticule type of handbag for afternoon use.

Many Women are Now Sadder and Wiser as To Stock Markets

New York, Oct. 30—(AP)—Thousands of women, erstwhile speculators returned to their bridge tables poorer but wiser, in the ways of Wall Street.

Attracted by the profits to be made during the past year, women of all classes, society matrons, debutantes, teachers and stenographers have been in the market.

The slump which began a week ago and culminated in yesterday's record breaking crash gave the majority of them their first baptism of fire and wiped many of them out.

During grueling days that have tried veteran operators women have crowded about the tickers and sat before the boards in the offices of their brokers watching the drop of prices that meant to many the loss of years of savings.

Brokers said their experiences with women customers during the slump had been varied.

The suddenness of the onslaught last Thursday when margins vanished in minutes and many women found themselves sold out caused hysteria and some of them fainted.

Most of those who survived the two previous blows appeared yesterday to have become accustomed to the ordeal. Some even smiled as they watched their fortunes fade.

Many declared they were through playing the market.

One broker said: "As customers women are more uncertain than men. They seek more advice. They sit and murmur, 'shall I sell or shall I hang on?' They go through greater agony of indecision in crucial moments. In the last week I think they have suffered more from the mental strain than men."

A great many elderly women have been among the throngs filling the broker's offices, wealthy dowagers who arrived in cars with liveried chauffeurs and retired school teachers risking their savings on the turn of the market.

Halloween Party Held Last Evening Enjoyable Time

The pre-Halloween Party at the Christian Church last evening, sponsored by the Christian Endeavor Society and the M. A. R. S. Boys' Class, was the most successful affair of the kind the church has had. The mystery-journey initiating the arrivals climaxed in the Morgue; the general parade of ghosts and distinguished characters of all ages, genres, and races climaxed in the grand march, and judges' decisions.

First prizes for originality, grotesqueness and cleverness were awarded respectively as follows: Mrs. W. R. Cromwell; Mrs. L. W. Emmert and Avis Cromwell; second: Mr. Cleaver, Ethel Seyster and Dorothy Cromwell.

After the unmasking Mrs. J. E. Reagan and L. W. Emmert directed the stunt-section, ending in a very enjoyable half-hour at the "Cromwell Movies." Over eighty were present, and pumpkin pie and cider added the final touch to a most happy evening.

'A Modern Discourse' Play Given by W.R.C. Was Great Success

At the conclusion of the business meeting Monday afternoon in G. A. R. Hall, the members of the Women's Relief Corps, No. 218, Auxiliary to the G. A. R., gave a play entitled "A Modern Discourse," which was screamingly funny and exceptionally well put on. The story deals with a person who could not be present to address his flock and the taking over of the person's part by the undertaker, impersonated by Mrs. Dorothy McWethy, a deacon done to perfection by Mrs. S. J. Mall, assisted in the services and Mrs. Florence Onnen were the organist at the affair; while Mrs. B. Bush and Mrs. J. M. Lund were the "heavy" voices in the choir. All took their parts to the life and afforded delightful amusement to the more than seventy-five people present. Mrs. Albertine McKinney gave several delightful readings.

Dixon Women Invited to Freeport Meet

Dixon women are invited to attend the lecture at Freeport Thursday morning, the invitation being given through the courtesy of the Freeport Garden club, the lecturer being E. H. M. Cox of London. The Freeport Journal Standard of Tuesday says:

The Freeport Garden club announces the change in time of the invitation lecture to be given by E. H. M. Cox, of London, England. Instead of Thursday afternoon it will be given at Odd Fellows' temple.

Regardless of the time, it will be a privilege to hear so distinguished a man and the hall should be filled. Mr. Cox speaks on Reginald Farrer, the famous botanist, who gave his life to further research in plant life.

The change in time is made necessary on account of Mr. Cox's New York engagement and his immediate return to England.

Miss Knick To Be Married Nov. 9th.

Friends in Dixon and vicinity will be interested in the following announcement:

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Knick, 847 N. Ottawa avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter Miss Margaret Knick, to Atty. Lloyd Scriven, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Scriven, 313 E. Seventh Street. The date of the wedding is announced for Nov. 9th.

Both young people have many friends who will extend congratulations advance. The bride-to-be is one of Dixon's most talented singers, possessing a beautiful soprano voice.

State Officers D. A. R. To Be Here Saturday

The Daughters of the American Revolution will hold their regular meeting Saturday afternoon at the Hotel Dixon.

Luncheon will be served promptly at 12 o'clock.

The State Regent, Mrs. Eli Dixon and Mrs. Barr, State Recording Secretary, will be guests.

Members bring their gifts for Ellis Island.

MRS. SARAH FOWLER 88, PASSES ON—

Kewanee, Ill., Oct. 30—(AP)—Mrs. Sarah Fowler, 88, last survivor of a group of young women who escorted Abraham Lincoln into Stark county on the occasion of his historic 1830 visit, died here Tuesday. The Lincoln entourage made the trip on horseback.

TO SPEND THE WINTER IN LOS ANGELES—

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Franks are leaving the last of the week by auto for Los Angeles, Calif., to spend the winter, going by the southern route and hoping to return by the northern route next spring. They will spend the winter with Mrs. Frank's brother Sam Huggins and family.

Reduced Sentence Telluride Banker

New York, Oct. 30—(AP)—His sentence reduced by five years, Charles Delos Waggoner, former President of the Bank of Telluride, Colo., faced a 10-year prison term for his $500,000 fraud on New York banks.

The reduction, however, is not expected to affect the actual time Waggoner will spend in jail as Federal Judge Coleman said he would ask the parole board not to free him until at least five years had been served.

Waggoner, who is being held at the Federal detention prison here, will be taken to the Atlanta penitentiary early next month.

Former Governor's Case Ends Mistrial

Tampa, Fla., (UP)—Former Governor Sidney J. Catts' trial on a counterfeiting charge ended in a mistrial Tuesday.

The jury had been out more than 13 hours when its foreman, C. B. Dickens, reported to Federal Judge Alexander Akerman that the jurors were unable to agree. The court then dismissed the jury and declared a mistrial.

Eat Soup With One Hand: Fire with Other

Chicago—(AP)—Shoot with one hand, eat soup with the other—that's Frank W. Steel for you.

Steel had gone to the House of Niles, a roadhouse, and ordered dinner. When the waiter brought the soup, Steel ordered liquor. The waiter said it was not that kind of a roadhouse.

"No?" said Steel, and he pulled a pistol and fired into the air.

When police arrived Steel had the employees at bay with the pistol in his right hand while with his left he was leisurely finishing his soup.

SECOND-HAND TRIUMPHS.

The chief criticism of American sports has always been that most people participate in them as spectators rather than as players.

Several million people will enjoy our college football games this autumn—but only a few hundred will do any of the playing. The rest will sit in the grandstand and watch.

It is the same with baseball. Millions of people are extremely fond of the game—but not one in a thousand ever plays. Most of us get our baseball at second-hand, watching someone else get the exercise that we might be getting.

Now, however, comes Dr. A. A. Brill, famous psychiatrist, to say that this state of affairs is altogether proper.

Writing in the current North American Review, Dr. Brill declares that sitting in the grandstand is good for us—better for us, in fact, in most cases, than actually playing games themselves.

Here's the way he explains it:

The average man has an itch for athletic supremacy. He longs to display physical prowess. But the cards are stacked against him. It simply isn't in him. No matter how hard he tried, he could never make a good athlete.

Yet his spirit demands that he become one. So he goes to a baseball game as a spectator and subconsciously identifies himself with the men on the field. When Babe Ruth slams the ball over the scoreboard the fan, in the secret recesses of his heart, does the same thing himself. He shares in Ruth's triumph. His psychic urge for supremacy is satisfied—and he is, actually, healthier than he would have been if he had stayed at home.

Perhaps this explains more things than our fondness for watching baseball, football and boxing contests. It may explain, also, our age-old tendency to be hero worshippers in other walks of life.

Lindbergh, for instance, did something that none of us can ever do, but that all of us, secretly, would like to do. He triumphed over darkness, loneliness and fear. Quite aside from the mechanics of flying, we know that we ourselves could never do that. We should not have the nerve. So we transfer our desires to Lindy's shoulders, and share in his victory.

It'll be a long time before the race gets over its hero worship. If the day comes when all men are brave, loyal, honest, far-sighted and energetic, the Lindberghs will lose their luster—just as Babe Ruth and Red Grange wouldn't excite a race of athletes.

Until then, however, most of us will have to take our triumphs at second-hand.

PARITY ISN'T COMPLETE.

Milton Bronner, London correspondent for this newspaper, points out that there are two elements in the Anglo-American naval situation that are not generally understood, although naval men recognize them as of great importance.

These elements are merchants steamships and airplanes.

England has a tremendous preponderance of steamers, many of which, in time of war, could be quickly transformed into very efficient commerce raiders. The United States, on the other hand, is vastly superior in naval airplanes—which might easily give her battle fleet an overwhelming advantage.

Thus, in two important items, the two nations are far from parity. No agreement between the two governments will be worth very much if it does not take these two points into consideration.

Modern poets do not receive justice, says a magazine writer. But maybe it's just as well people haven't lost all sense of mercy.

You can't always tell by his looks whether or not a man is married. Bachelors sometimes have things to worry about, too.

A new practice golf ball which will not travel more than 30 feet is becoming popular. The ordinary ball, of course, would serve the same purpose for some of our friends who play.

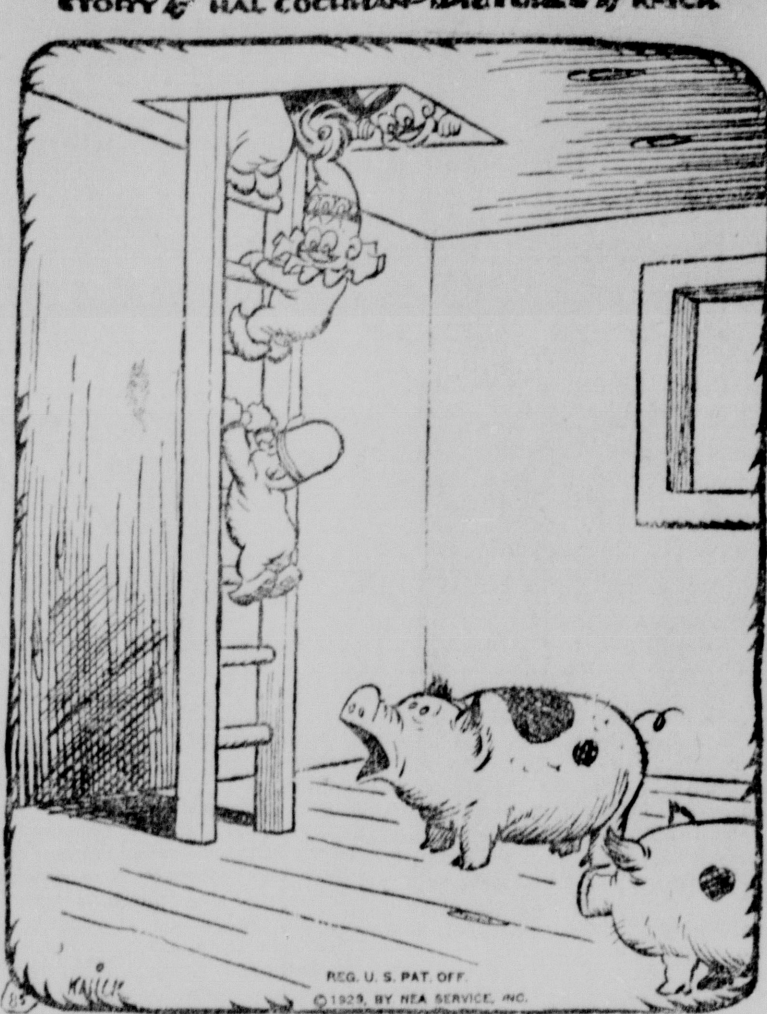

Eighty-five percent of the automobiles stolen in the United States last year were recovered. Rather pessimistic results—only 15 per cent having any kind of luck.

One good way to escape doing a few of the things that are expected of you is to have a "career."

Jane Cowl says the theater is on its last legs. There seems to be plenty of 'em, anyway.

Anyway the United States of Europe ought to furnish one grand opportunity for Mr. Mussolini.

THE ANIMATES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Poor Clowny hung out in the air. The horse, of course, gave him a scare by swinging him around a bit. It was a funny sight. Soon Clowny shouted, "Let me go!" And then he added, "Oh, oh, oh! A horse has grabbed me by the pants. I'm in an awful plight."

The other Times then awoke. At first the whole thing seemed a joke, and then brabe Copy shouted loud, "He may be hurt real bad. We'd better rescue Clowny quick. Somebody get a big long stick. When I get through this horse will know a licking he has had."

"Oh no!" cried Scouty. "That's unkind. Some other way we'll have to find to save wee Clowny. Never whip an animal that's dumb. Let's get out of the feed box now. I'll think a good plan up somehow. When'er my mind starts working hard a clever thought will come."

They all climbed down and reached the floor. Poor Clowny set up quite a roar. "Hey, don't go 'way and leave me," he cried out. "This horse may bite. Put hay down by the horse's feet. He'll see it and then start to eat. In that way I'll fall from his teeth and then I'll be all right."

They tried this plan and, sure enough, it proved that Clowny knew his stuff. The horse's mouth was opened wide and Clowny toppled loose. He let out quite a cheerful screech and ran out of the horse's reach. And then he shouted, "Let's not stay in this barn. What's the use?"

Then, as they started out to steal outdoors they heard a funny squeal. "Run for that ladder!" Carpy cried. "Some pigs are chasing us." They reached the ladder just in time and up it they began to climb. Two pigs below them squealed real loud and started quite a fuss.

(A hen gives Clowny a good scare in the next story.)

Daily Health Talk

YOUR CHILD'S BIRTHRIGHT
By Edward Sherrard Rimer, M. D.
New York, New York

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

The men who have done big things in life have done so largely because a background had been prepared in childhood. The rugged outdoor life of Lincoln's early days undoubtedly gave him the strength and endurance without which he might have failed in his great task. Roosevelt's early years in the open without question gave his physical strength to prosecute so successfully the tremendous projects of his career. You remember that Roosevelt was a sickly child. By the will to be well, by following the simple rules of health and hygiene, by taking exercise in the open at every opportunity, he gained a rugged virility that made him the most talked of man of his day. His exploits in outdoor life were a matter of daily news. Tennis, horseback riding, wood chopping, hunting mountain lions in Colorado or big game in Africa—all he enjoyed thoroughly and by his enthusiasm he aroused an interest in the great out-of-doors that has been of tremendous benefit to all the American people in better health. "Strenuous" was an adjective made popular by his surprising energy. His success as a leader of men was in no small degree due to his great physical vigor.

This is called the "machine age." Partly as a result of many inventions, present day competition in nearly every walk of life has become very keen. That competition will undoubtedly be stronger a generation from now. For the handicapped then, even more than now, the struggle will be terrible. The handicapped child now bids fair to be the loser in the competition then. But habits that bring health, the will to be healthy, the overcoming of handicaps and the avoidance of mental or physical weakness can be today's gift to a triumphant tomorrow. And these are nowhere more readily obtained than by the regular annual visit to that excellent friend, the family doctor.

The well child is a happy child; he is alert, he eats with appetite, plays wit keen enjoyment and sleeps soundly. The reverse also is true; the irritable, unhappy, badly-behaving youngster is not in normal health. We need more and more to get happiness into health, through play and sports and adventure, through an environment that enriches with music and beauty and color, heroism, the love of nature, the love of mankind, the love of God.

President Hoover, as President of the American Child Health Association, gave the child's bill of rights, and I can do no better than quote what he has said:

"The ideal to which we should strive is that there shall be no child in America that has not been born under proper conditions, that does not live in hygienic surroundings, that ever suffers from undernourishment, that does not have prompt and efficient medical attention and inspection, that does not receive primary instruction in the elements of hygiene and good health; that there shall be no child that has not the complete birthright of a sound mind in a sound body and the encouragement to express in the fullest measure the spirit within, which is the final endowment of every human being."

Three Die in Crash Of Plane in Oregon

Eugene, Ore., Oct. 29—(AP)—An airplane crash which took the lives of two veteran fliers and a student aviator at Walker, Ore., was under investigation today, as authorities attempted to learn its cause.

The plane fell and burst into flames after striking a tree. When the fire had subsided, the bodies of F. O. Mercer, "Bev" Clark and Miss Edythe Rose, were taken from the wreckage. So badly burned were the bodies that they were identified only with the aid of personal papers.

Both Clark and Mercer saw service in the Army during the World War, Mercer as an aerial photographer and Clark as pilot.

Fireman Killed In Wreck In Georgia

New England, Ga.—(AP)—A fireman was killed and two other members of the train crew and one passenger were hurt Tuesday in the wreck of a southbound Alabama and Great Southern passenger train at few minutes after it has left the station here.

Forrest Aderholt of Birmingham, the fireman, was buried beneath the coal in the tender and crushed to death as the train struck a split switch, derailing the engine, baggage car, two day coaches and a Pullman.

The baggage car and one day coach were demolished as they left the rails and crashed into box cars on a siding.

Three Alleged Bomb Gangsters Are Dead

Hot Springs, Ark.—(UP)—An explosion of nitro-glycerine killed three men Tuesday.

The dead are Roy Pugh, 35, manager of the Orpheum Theater, Tulsa, Okla.; W. W. Sirkel, electrician of the same theater and Spencer Bryant, Fort Smith, Ark.

The explosion occurred as the automobile carrying the three backed up to a theater structure here where recent labor troubles over over non-union operators had caused friction. Pugh and Sirkel, police said, were wanted for bombing of a theater at

Seek Fiends Who Left Baby Boy To Starve

Pottsville, Pa., Oct. 30.—(UP)—Emaciated by starvation and exposure, the tiny body of Allan G. Geiger, 3, today lay in a morgue here while county authorities started a hunt for the supposed fiends who kidnapped the child 18 days ago and left him in an abandoned mine shaft to die from starvation.

The child's body was found in the pit late Saturday.

Searchers had visited the pit on several previous occasions without finding a trace of the lad.

Allan's parents as well as police said it would have been impossible for him to walk the more than three miles from the home to the pit through the dense underbrush, alone.

Allan's neat little shoes and white stockings were not soiled. Only minor bruises were on the body.

The child's coat was found a few feet from the body. It was clean.

WALKER TRIMS ACE EASILY IN WESTERN ARENA

Hudkins Is Badly Beaten in Encounter Last Evening

BY RUSSEL J. NEWLAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Wrigley Field, Los Angeles, Oct. 30. (AP)—Fighting with all the old time fury that won him the title in 1926, Mickey Walker demonstrated his fitness to wear the robes of middleweight champion when he pounded his way to an easy ten round decision here last night over his most persistent challenger, Ace Hudkins Nebraska Wildcat.

With hefty punches to the jaw a terrific body attack, the title holder not only met the rushes of the tough Nebraskan but slowed him down to a walk before the mill was half over.

A wildly cheering throng of 25,000 persons accounting for $141,459, the largest gate in the history of boxing in California, saw a furious encounter in which Hudkins took one of the worst beatings of his career. The Nebraskan's vaunted body attack failed to soften Walker, in fact he wilted before the battering he received.

Ace Won One Round

Unable to weave in under the barrage of jolting lefts and rights, Hudkins, however, rallied to win the eighth round. In that session, the only one he won, he bored in to batter Walker with a devastating attack to the body.

Hudkins' rally was over with the round, and for the next two rounds he ran into powerful clips to the chin and that had him dazed and bleeding when the bout was over.

Walker scaled in at 159½ pounds after a month's training that forced him to top of six or eight pounds. He was fresh and strong and punched with hilt of a light heavyweight, Hudkins tipped the team at 156.

Twenty-one years ago, Billy Papke won the middleweight title here from Stanley Ketchell. Last night Papke sat at the ringside to see the lad he helped train lose to Walker.

Two other former champions of the class, Al McCoy and Tommy Ryan, also witnessed the fight.

SPORT SLANTS

The New York Yankees have been unique in a number of respects and for a considerable period of time covered by the achievements of the upper check-book the Barrow sagacity and the Huggins field generalship.

They are unique now for being the first major league ball club to adopt the "graduate policy" in selecting Robert J. Shawkey as the manager for 1930. They have decided to stick to the Huggins system.

"Bob the Gob" got his first real baseball tutoring under Connie Mack, but he spent the 12 best years of his baseball life under the New York banner, 10 of them under the direction of the late Miller Huggins. Huggins was always known as a "smart pitcher." He was credited largely with the development of George Piggas as one of the leading right-handers in the American League after it seemed that George would never make the grade. Under Huggins, Shawkey was charged with much coaching responsibility, so that it was not strange either Art Fletcher, the old Giant star and now a Yankee coach, or Shawkey.

There have been few better liked ball players on or off the field, than Robert J. Shawkey, whose flapping red shirt-sleeves always distinguished him in action.

"Bob the Gob" was a big factor in the 1921-22-23 pennant victories of the Yankees, winning 54 and losing 25 games in those three seasons. He pitched the famous 10-inning tie game in the 1922 world's series, called off because of "darkness."

Shawkey's last appearance in the world's series was in 1926 against the Cardinals. Although in the past his prime, Bob had thrown such effectiveness with his famous curve in two relief performances that he was sent him out against Alexander in the sixth game at the Yankee Stadium. After a bad first inning Shawkey held his own with Alex until the seventh, when the old soupbone began to feel the effects of a damp, chilly day. Old Bob was knocked out and hasn't been pitched much for the Yankees since then, although he was good enough to twirl in 23 games for Montreal in the International League in 1928 winning nine and losing nine.

Three of the big stars in the University of Pittsburgh's powerful gridiron lineup this year are Tom Parkinson, fullback; Joe Donohue, rugged end, and Ray Montgomery, guard. They are kingpins in the main plays of Jock Sutherland's outfit that has started out as impressively as any eleven in the country.

Donohue was unquestionably one of the finest ends in the country last year, perhaps the best defensive or interfering end anywhere, although he failed to get as many headlines as the wingmen figuring in the forward passing attacks.

There is considerable rivalry over the merits of these players around the Smoky City, where Carnegie Tech's outstanding trio happen to

GRIDIRON NEWS

BY PAUL MICKELSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

Chicago, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Purdue's rampant Boilermakers, galloping towards their first Big Ten football championship since way back when, may bump into a hornet's nest Saturday when they invade the lair of Wisconsin's bristling Badgers.

Licked completely out of the championship picture by Northwestern and Iowa, Wisconsin is seeking not only consolation but revenge and Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite wants all of its Saturday.

Last year the Badgers lost a tie for the title because Purdue battled them to a 19 to 19 tie at Lafayette. Doped to win the game by a comfortable margin, Wisconsin was extended to the limit to gain even a deadlock. The game was played before a Purdue homecoming crowd. Saturday's contest will be the homecoming day attraction at Wisconsin and if Wisconsin can turn the trick the revenge will be complete.

Coach Bob Zuppke's Illini, who invade Northwestern Saturday in another game that may result in an upset, went to work today sans the fear of ineptibility. The first ineptibility list under the new six weeks rule was issued yesterday and not a first string man was named. "Zup" is developing a fast running and passing attack.

Northwestern will pin its hopes on a pair of sophomore backs, Sid Burnstein and Oswald Baxter. Bill Burnstein, who has been on the injured list, may get into the skirmish at his old fullback post.

Driven indoors last night by snow, Minnesota studied Indiana plays and listed to scouts' reports of Indiana's great showing against Ohio State. Indiana, meanwhile, drilled long and hard for the Gophers, determined to give the Hoosiers "No Shave Club" a break by a victory. The club members have agreed not to shave until their team wins a conference game.

Ohio State and Chicago, which defend Big Ten prestige against eastern eleven Saturday, were plugging along in the face of dull prospects. Fred Barratt, giant Buckeye center, was ill, but is expected to start against Pittsburgh, while Chicago had several regulars on the injured list, probably lost for the invasion of Princeton.

STRUGGLE NARROWING

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY

United Press Staff Correspondent
New York, Oct. 30.—(UP)—With the football season half over the struggle for sectional honors in all parts of the country is rapidly narrowing itself to a small field of contenders.

The October rankings of the nation's leading teams by the United Press follow:

- EAST:
1—Dartmouth.
2—Pittsburgh.
3—Yale (beaten by Georgia).
4—Cornell.

- MIDDLE WEST:
1—Notre Dame.
2—Minnesota.
3—Purdue.
4—Ohio State (tied by Indiana).
5—Illinois (tied by Iowa).

- BIG SIX:
1—Nebraska and Missouri (tied each other).

- SOUTH:
1—Tennessee.
2—Tulane.
3—Kentucky.
4—Louisiana State.
5—Clemson.

- SOUTHEAST:
1—Texas.
2—Texas Christian.
3—Louisiana State.
4—Clemson.

- SOUTHWEST:
1—Texas.
2—Texas Christian.
3—Southern Methodist (tied twice).

- FAR WEST:
1—Southern California.
2—California (tied by St. Mary's).

The three eastern leaders lay severe tests this week. Dartmouth and Yale clash at New Haven in a game which may go a long way toward deciding the eastern champion. Pittsburgh encounters a strong foe in the unbeaten Ohio State eleven at Pittsburgh. Cornell is a strong favorite over Columbia.

Notre Dame, which has hopes of winning the national football championship, goes south to meet Georgia Tech at Atlanta without Rockne. Tennessee, which hasn't lost a game in three years but has been facing an easy opponent in Auburn this week, will face an Auburn coach was relieved of his job this week because he lacked "personality and leadership."

Missouri and Nebraska, outstanding teams in the Big Six, played a 7-7 tie last week, and appear formidable enough to complete their conference schedules without defeat. Missouri plays the Kansas Aggies Saturday and Nebraska meets Kansas.

Two of the southwest's leaders, Texas and Southern Methodist, meet in a crucial game at Dallas. Texas is one of the few elevens in the country with an uncrossed goal line.

On the Pacific Coast, Southern California can clinch the far western championship by defeating California Saturday. If the Trojans beat the Golden Bears and Notre Dame wins from Georgia Tech and Drake in its next two games, the Southern California-Notre Dame game at Chicago November 16 is quite likely to play an important role in determining the outstanding eleven for 1929.

CARNEGIE REPORT FAILS TO AROUSE GREAT INTEREST

Students Exhibit More Interest in Teams' Activities

BY BERT DEMBY

United Press Staff Correspondent

Chicago, Oct. 30.—(UP)—General attitude of "well, what about it?" seems to be the reaction of middle-western college undergraduates to the Carnegie Foundation report, exposing the over-emphasis of football in many institutions.

The students seem to have forgotten the report as soon as it came out last week because they were excited at the time by the prospect of Dear Old Whois gaining another "football victory."

As Carroll Arimond, a junior at Marquette University in Milwaukee phrased it, "the report appears to have been nothing more than an expose of facts known to a majority of students even before they heard of the Carnegie Institute."

At the University of Illinois last week-end the report appeared to be a topic of conversation more among the old grads who were back to attend home-coming than among students. Even the alumni were more interested in the day's game than in what action the colleges will take, if any.

Since Illinois was one of the schools exonerated in the Carnegie announcement the students seemed not at all alarmed and showed little interest in the reports.

Can Care For Self.
In general the attitude out here seems to be that the Big Ten can take care of itself. Eddie Lennox, president of the Senior class at Northwestern University, opined:

"I certainly believe that the Big Ten can take care of its own athletics. Major John L. Griffith has whipped things into shape in fine style and my opinion would be that he has proved he doesn't need any help from outside sources to take care of them."

Merrill Mundy, president of the Men's Union at Northwestern said he believed the present who's furore wouldn't amount to a hill of beans in the long run.

"What of it?" he said. "Football has enabled colleges to support all types of athletic and I believe that the spirit of competition it brings about is a fine thing. Anyone likes to see his school have a good team and as for commercializing football in the Big Ten it isn't being done. The huge stadia have come in for condemnation. The answer to that is that the public likes to see football."

Thought Not Fair.
Edward Byrne, sophomore at Marquette said he believed the "Carnegie probe is not fair to the majority of schools which it has condemned."

"The probe," he continued, "does not take into consideration the fact that football men are spending much of their time on the practice field, time that they could otherwise devote to working their way through college. The probe is correct in condemning those schools which have a highly concentrated system of getting men to attend their school for the sole purpose of attaining athletic glory, but if soft jobs are to be found, why shouldn't the school give them to the athlete who is devoting much of his time to a university sport."

Mack and McCarthy Guests at Banquet

Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Veteran athletes of Germantown played host last night to two of its citizens—Joe McCarthy, manager of the Chicago Cubs, and Connie Mack, manager and part owner of the Philadelphia Athletics, winners of the recent world series between the Cubs and the Mackmen.

Mack lives in Germantown, which is a part of Philadelphia, and McCarthy's family home is still there, occupied by his mother, Wm. Wrigley, Jr., owner of the Cubs, lived in Germantown in his youth.

"Four years ago I was a guest in this same hall," McCarthy said, "as I was about to enter the major league baseball. Connie Mack was one of those who tendered congratulations at that time and he expressed the hope that I would come back some day at the head of the Cubs and play his team for the world series title. I have never forgotten that talk and I am glad to have been fortunate enough to come to Philadelphia this year and play against the Athletics."

"I consider Mack the greatest manager in baseball. He never gives up."

Mack congratulated McCarthy for his success in leading the Cubs to a National League pennant and predicted that he would have a long and successful stay in the major leagues.

LEGION'S RIFLE CLUB OF CENTER CHOSE OFFICERS

Made Plans For Indoor Shooting During the Winter Months

The Legion rifle club of Lee Center held a special meeting at the American Legion hall at Lee Center Monday evening, where plans were discussed for the activity of the club during the coming indoor season. It was decided to award a fine silver trophy to the member having the highest score for 15 nights, shooting to begin the first Thursday in December and continue each Thursday evening through the winter months. The trophy will remain the property of the club until won two successive times by a member. Each season's winner will have his name and score engraved on the trophy and retain its possession for one year.

It is expected that this will create much interest this season and even more shooters are expected to take advantage of the opportunity offered by the National Rifle association and enjoy target shooting than ever before. The first of the season's shoots will take place Thursday evening, Oct. 7 at Woodman hall in Lee Center and all club members and any others who are interested is invited to attend. No admission fee will be charged.

Rifles and ammunition are furnished free to members of the club by the N. R. A. and are 22-caliber Springfield for indoor shooting and 30-06 caliber Springfield regulation U. S. Army rifles for the outdoor range. However, any rifle of 22-caliber may be used for the indoor shooting.

New Officers.
At Monday evening's meeting officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President—John Brasel.
Vice Pres.—Ned Bedent.
Treasurer—Leonard Dewey.
Secretary—Vernon Schnell.
Directors—Raymond Degner, Arthur Dunseth, Ned Bedent, Vernon Schnell.

Range Officer—Leonard Dewey. Membership dues have been arranged, providing an initiation fee of two dollars and $1.25 each year after, which entitles each member to ammunition in each annual issue from the National Rifle association.

BRITISH OFFER SHARKEY PURSE TO FIGHT SCOTT

Heavies May Fight in London Ring If Jack Accepts

New York Oct. 30. (AP)—With the heavyweight situation at a standstill apparently so far as this country is concerned English sportsmen have stepped forward with a solution to the problem of finding a successor to Gene Tunney retired.

Wilfred Ward and a London syndicate are willing to offer Jack Sharkey, generally considered the outstanding American heavyweight, $250,000 to meet Phil Scott, the English fireman, and Ward, in addition offered to bet $25,000 on the side that his protegee, Scott, could whip the Garrulous gob from Boston. Backing up this offer, the British Board of Boxing Control, headed by Lord Lonsdale, has asked the New York State Athletic Commission to recognize the match as being for the world's heavyweight championship. Although the New York state solons declined to take any definite stand until the match is arranged, it was understood they were favorably disposed toward the request.

If the match goes through it probably will be held in London early next year. Sharkey is under contract to Madison Square Garden until after his fight at Miami, Fla., this winter against an opponent as yet unselected.

Tony Is Favored To Chilean This Evening

Chicago, Oct. 30.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey's second Chicago promotional effort will get under way here tonight when Tony Canzoneri, New York Italian, meets Stanlihus Laoyza the Chilean, in a ten round bout. Tony was an 8 to 5 favorite to win.

Dempsey has confined his three headline bouts to lightweights in an effort to develop an opponent for Sammy Mandell, the 135-pound champion.

The other two fights will find Louis "Kid" Kaplan meeting Eddie "Kid" Wolfe and Tony Herrera battling Irish Jackie Pilkington. Kaplan for some time has been rated as a lightweight title contender and Wolfe recently lost a close decision to Canzoneri in New Orleans. The Herrera-Pilkington bout matches two hard right hand punchers.

H. S. Superintendent Approves Work Permit

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 30.—High school district superintendents must pass on applications of children who have graduated from the grade schools and seek working permits, according to an opinion handed down by Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom, here today.

The ruling was made at the request of State's Attorney John R. Tweddle, Washburn, who cited the case of a fourteen-year-old boy graduate of a grade school, and lawfully employed.

Ordinarily, the Attorney General held, children must obtain working certificates from either the county superintendent or the superintendent of public schools which the child should be attending.

"But when the pupil completed the eighth grade work he became then a pupil of the high school," said the opinion, "and the superintendent of the high school district in which such pupil resides is the proper authority, in my opinion, to issue the working certificate."

ALMSHOUSES AND JAILS WILL BE GIVEN THE "O-O"

State Inspection Will Be Conducted Regularly Now

Springfield, Ill.—(UP)—Working in conjunction with county authorities, officials of the state department of public welfare are to conduct regular inspections of all county jails and almshouses, according to Rodney H. Brandon, state Director of Public Welfare.

This work is to be carried on under the general supervision of A. L. Bowen, superintendent of state charities. Frank Oppleman, Springfield, state inspector already has started on a tour of the institutions and will complete his investigations, it is planned by January 1.

The statutes provide that the public welfare department shall make an annual investigation of conditions of all county jails and publish a report of its findings. "The policy of the state department," Bowen said, "will be to work in co-operation with county authorities for the improvement of jails and county homes and the care they give their inmates. It is not the purpose of the department to carry on an inquisition, nor to find material for sensation."

"We believe," he said, "that county boards of supervisors and those in charge of these institutions will welcome the co-operation and the advice that the state department will be able to give. In former years we were able to maintain friendly relationships with these institutions and were pleased to note some remarkable improvements in the service. We hope to maintain the same sort of friendly relationship and that, as a result of our surveys, there will be improvement all along the line."

Asks Destroyers Be Ordered to Shanghai

Manila, P. I., Oct. 30.—(UP)—Under sealed orders, three destroyers sailed today for Chinese waters. Three more will follow tomorrow.

It was understood that the vessels were proceeding to Shanghai to report to the chief of the Asiatic Fleet for further orders, although island naval officials declared only naval headquarters at Washington could reveal the purpose of the sudden maneuver.

The destroyers, it had been supposed, were to have remained at Manila for sometime, after their arrival recently for the Navy Day celebration.

In some quarters it was rumored that the war craft were sailing in anticipation of major disturbances on the Yangtze in the vicinity of Hankow.

Shanghai.—(AP)—Charles MacVeagh, American Minister to China, has requested the movement of a division of United States destroyers from Manila to Shanghai as the result of disturbed condition in the Yangtze Valley, scene of the latest Chinese civil war.

Severe fighting was in progress between Nationalist forces and the rebellious Kuomintang or "people's army" along the Lungshai Railway west of Chengchow, Honan province, an important railway junction.

Sunflower Crop Of Illinois At Peak

Paris, Ill.—(UP)—The sunflower crop of Central Illinois is at the peak of its harvest, according to latest report from growers.

While Edgar county does not join in the cultivation of sunflowers for other than ornamentals there are several thousand acres planted to it in adjoining counties. In the vicinity of Pana and near by communities there are about 3,000 acres of the crop.

Many profitable uses are derived from the sunflowers, as the seeds are used in manufacturing chicken feed, and also produces oil for commercial uses.

swivel chair, drinking from a straw plunged into a bottle of soda water. "Hotter'n Hades, ain't it?" he growled, by way of greeting. "Want a bottle of pop? I'll send a flat-foot out for one."

"No, thanks. . . . Well, I've seen Mrs. Hogarth, but I had mighty little chance to get her story."

"Because she didn't have anything to tell, more'n likely," Strawn growled.

"I think she has," Dundee insisted cheerfully, fanning his face with his hat. "The trouble was, no sooner had I been left alone with her and before I could state my official connection—grin, darn you!—than people began to drift in to pay the old lady a call. First came Daisy Shepherd—jolly, fat girl, who looks a sybil beside Mrs. Hogarth. Then before Daisy had left, Mrs. Rhodes, our landlady, called to assure Mrs. Hogarth that her worthless husband, who goes by the appropriate name of 'Dusty' Rhodes, would surely get her reinforced screen in on Monday. And before she left, in came Mr. and Mrs. Sharp, who insisted on showing me snapshots of their adored son, Larry, who is working off a condition or two in State University this summer, so he can play on the sophomore football team this fall."

"Talk to the old dame alone at all?" Strawn asked.

"Only about five minutes."

AND then he told Strawn to do tail about the old lady's numerous wills. He also gave a rapid sketch of the various boarders, including the evicted one, Emil Sevier.

"She hinted dire things about a plot to rob and even murder her," Dundee concluded. "She seems to think Cora Barker, Emil Sevier and Dusty Rhodes are all mixed up in it. Says she woke up one night and saw Sevier in her room, but that he vanished mysteriously, by neither door nor window. She told me to come back to her room about midnight, or a little after, when the house was quiet—late hours on Saturday night, you know—and we could talk undisturbed. Wants me to take away some samples of food she's saved. Says she's sure they're poisoned—by Dusty, who brings her trays."

"Nutt!" Strawn dismissed her wearily. "Let's amble down the street and surround a flock of ice cream sodas. I'll go nuts myself if this heat wave don't break."

Over the sodas Strawn became almost flatteringly reminiscent of his 25 years on the force, and it was nearly 20 minutes after 12 when Dundee entered the still unlocked front door of the Rhodes House and tiptoed up the stairs.

A pencil of light under the old woman's door indicated she was still awake. He knocked softly. There was no answer. He knocked again, and listened intently. The second floor was very quiet. The only sound at the moment was the slow, steady tapping of Bert Magnus's typewriter.

Dundee knocked again, more loudly. When there was still no answer, a sweat not caused by the heat broke out on his face. Tentatively he tried the knob, sure, however, that the door was locked. To his surprise it yielded. He entered the room.

Two or three minutes later a white-faced young man staggered out of that room, lurched down the stairs like a drunken man. "And they sent me to protect her!" he groaned.

"I GAINED 7 POUNDS THRU FAMED KONJOLA"

Man Has Fine Experience with New Medicine—Ailments Quickly Ended.

MR. WILLIAM H. GOODWIN.

"My health in general was badly rundown and the main cause was stomach trouble," said Mr. William H. Goodwin, 613 North Adams Street, Peoria, Ill. "I had very little appetite and when I did eat, the meal was immediately followed by gas bloating that made my heart palpitate wildly. Then my kidneys became weakened and forced me to rise three or four times a night."

"When Konjola was recommended to me—I did not hesitate to give it a trial because I knew what this medicine was doing for others. Soon my system was cleansed and invigorated. Konjola corrected my kidneys and restored my digestion. I now eat and sleep like a well and healthy man. I gained seven pounds through the use of Konjola. I fail to find words expressive enough to give it the praise it so richly deserves."

Konjola is sold in Dixon, Ill., at FORD HOPKINS DRUG STORE, 123 W. First St., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

POLITICS RIDES CREST IN DOZEN STATES OF UNION

Next Tuesday is Election Day in Many Commonwealths

By JAMES L. WEST, Associated Press Staff Writer. Washington, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Politics again rides the crests in a dozen states as local campaigns move on to meet the annual tide of votes to be cast next Tuesday.

Virginia alone elects a Governor and so furnishes the only contest in which is carried along the strife and bitterness of the presidential campaign a year ago in which it returned a Republican majority for the first time since the days of carpet-bagger rule.

While this election holds first interest to students of national politics as it may determine the permanency or lack of it of the 1928 revolt, there are others which carry their appeal far beyond the borders of the states in which they will be held.

New York City's quadrennial controversy over the question of who shall be the guiding hand in the government of the world's greatest metropolis attracts perhaps more than the usual attention over the country because of the dashing figure of its widely-traveled mayor, James J. Walker, who finds himself opposed by men who also have gained nationwide reputations.

Racing down the stretch with him are Representative Fiorello H. La Guardia, Republican, who has made himself heard in the halls of Congress; Norman Thomas, Socialist leader, and Richard E. Enright, one time Police Commissioner, and candidate under the banner of the Square Deal Party.

Boston, too, elects a mayor with James W. Curley, former Chief Magistrate, Frederick W. Mansfield, Good Government association candidate, and Daniel H. Conley, an independent, seeking the office in the midst of a complex political situation. Just one seat in Congress is at stake this November, that for the twenty-first New York district, made vacant by the death of Roy H. Wells.

Joseph A. Gavagan, Democrat; Herbert T. Denaly, Republican, and Frank Crosswain, Socialist, are the candidates. Normally the district is strongly Democratic.

State-wide elections will be held in Pennsylvania for the election of two Superior Judges; in Illinois for the selection of state judges; in Ohio on constitutional amendments and in Kentucky for the selection of the 100 members of the House of Representatives, twenty state Senators and decision on constitutional amendments.

Professors Candidates. In Virginia, two college professors—John Garland Pollard of William and Mary, and William Moseley Brown of Washington and Lee—are the gubernatorial candidates. Dr. Pollard is the candidate of the regular Democrat organization, while Dr. Brown has the endorsement alike of the Anti-Smith Democrats responsible for the 1928 revolution and the Republican organization headed by C. Bascom Slemmons, National Committeeman, and Robert H. Angel, state chairman.

The revolting Democrats, in the forefront of whose ranks stands Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, contend that the Virginia Democratic machine is dominated by the Democratic national organization under John J. Raskob and so have raised the cry of "Raskobism."

On the other hand the regulars of the Democrats argue that Bishop Cannon is seeking the political bossship of the state and so the term "Cannonism" has taken its place alongside of "Raskobism."

Rock Island Girl Is Killed by Paris Fali

Paris.—(UP)—Frances Hope Babcock, 24-year-old American actress and mannequin, died here Tuesday after falling from her horse while riding in the Bois de Boulogne. She was the daughter of Dr. A. B. Babcock, of Rock Island, Ill. She arrived in Paris July 2 and started work as a mannequin.

Chicago—Issuance of the first $100,000 in bonds for the 1930 Chicago World's Fair authorized in announcement by Ambassador Charles G. Dawes, chairman of the fair's finance committee. The bonds are guaranteed and are secured by 40 per cent of the gross admission receipts.

Asks Adoption Of Metric System Here

Washington.—(AP)—An investigation by the Secretary of Commerce to determine the possible advantages or disadvantages of the metric system of weights and measures for general use in the United States is proposed in a resolution by Representative Britten, Republican, Illinois.

He said the metric system is accepted generally for international trade and its use is required by law by a large majority of the nations of the world. In his resolution he cited that the legislatures of California, Illinois, Tennessee, North Dakota and Utah have asked Congress to enact legislation providing for the adoption of the metric system.

Another resolution introduced by Representative Britten would authorize the Department of Commerce to establish commodity quantity units for general use in merchant-units after 1935. The units proposed in his resolution would standardize the yard to the meter. The quart to the liter and the pound to 500 grams decimally divided.

Sweetheart's Note Identifies Fugitive

Pittsfield, Ill.—(UP)—A letter from his sweetheart revealed the identity of Lyle Brown, 23, Lincoln, an escaped parole violator and led to his incarceration in Pike County jail here.

Several days ago, Brown who was being returned to Pontiac prison by a parole officer, made a sensational escape. Though handcuffed he drove away in the automobile in which he and the officer were riding, when the latter stepped into a garage at Eureka.

Brown was picked up at Marshall yesterday, but denied being the man wanted until a letter addressed to him from his sweetheart was found by officials.

Brown will be tried here on charges of auto theft. According to authorities, he has confessed to stealing ten automobiles.

Relief from Gas Stomach Pains Dizziness

The doctors tell us that 90 per cent of all sickness is due to stomach and bowel troubles. You can't be well if your digestion is bad; you are likely to get sick unless you relish food and digest it properly.

©Tanlac has a wonderful record as a relief from digestive troubles, even those of years' standing.

Mr. Walter J. Frisbie, of 2193 Ashland Ave., Detroit, Mich., says: "Six years I suffered from stomach trouble and my appetite dwindled to nothing. Tanlac certainly did wonders! Now my digestion is so good I can eat everything."

If you suffer from gas, pains in the stomach or bowels, dizziness, nausea, constipation, or torpid liver; if you have no appetite, can't sleep and are nervous and all run down, you need Tanlac. It is good, pure medicine, made of roots, herbs and barks. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you.

Rum runners have been warned to stay away when the U. S. S. Sylph, pictured above, private yacht of secretaries of the navy for many years, is put on the auction block Nov. 18. WORLD'S FAIR CLOSED
The World's Columbian Exposition, an international fair held in Chicago to celebrate the 400th anniversary of the landing of Columbus, closed on October 30, 1892.
The total attendance was 27,539,041 and there were 250,000 exhibits of arts, industries, manufactures and the products of the soil mines and sea. Receipts amounted to $33,290,065 and disbursements were $31,117,253.
The exposition was authorized by Congress in 1890 and a total fund of about $20,000,000 was available for use before the fair opened. The site covered an area of 600 acres in Jackson park in the southeastern part of Chicago.
The principal buildings were constructed of a composition called staff, consisting of a mixture of plaster of Paris with a little cement, glycerin and dextrin in water, which at a short distance gave the appearance of marble. The exposition subsequently became known as the White City.
During the exposition, a series of international congresses, grouped under 20 departments and 224 general divisions, were held.

ORIENT CAME TO DIXON YESTERDAY FOR TWO DAY STAY

Unusual Meeting Opened At Methodist Church In This City

The Orient came to Dixon yesterday when four noted Christian leaders of Asia and two American missionaries serving on the Asiatic continent appeared together upon the platform of the First Methodist Episcopal Church to conduct "The World Mission of Christianity" before a large audience representing all the church of this district of the Illinois Conference. The meeting was sponsored by the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church and by Bishop Edwin H. Hughes of Chicago.

Those on the program of the day were: Hugh Cynn, a Korean Christian, general secretary of the Korean Young Men's Christian Association, a man who has served in prison because of his faith and is the author of a book in defense of his country's desire for independence; the Rev. Gulzar Lal Lorenzo, an Indian, one of the best known Christians of his native land where he serves as superintendent of the Muzaffarpore district; Dr. James L. Ding, a Chinese, president of the famous Anglo-Chinese College in Foochow; Mrs. James L. Ding, wife of President Ding, descended from a famous family of Chinese scholars, and herself a former professor in Hwa Nan college, Foochow; The Rev. Samuel W. Stagg, missionary in the Philippine Islands, and pastor of the Student Church, Manila, the largest young peoples church Asia; and Dr. E. R. Fulkerson, world traveler and lecturer, former missionary in Japan, and former consul of the United States Government in Nagasaki, Japan.

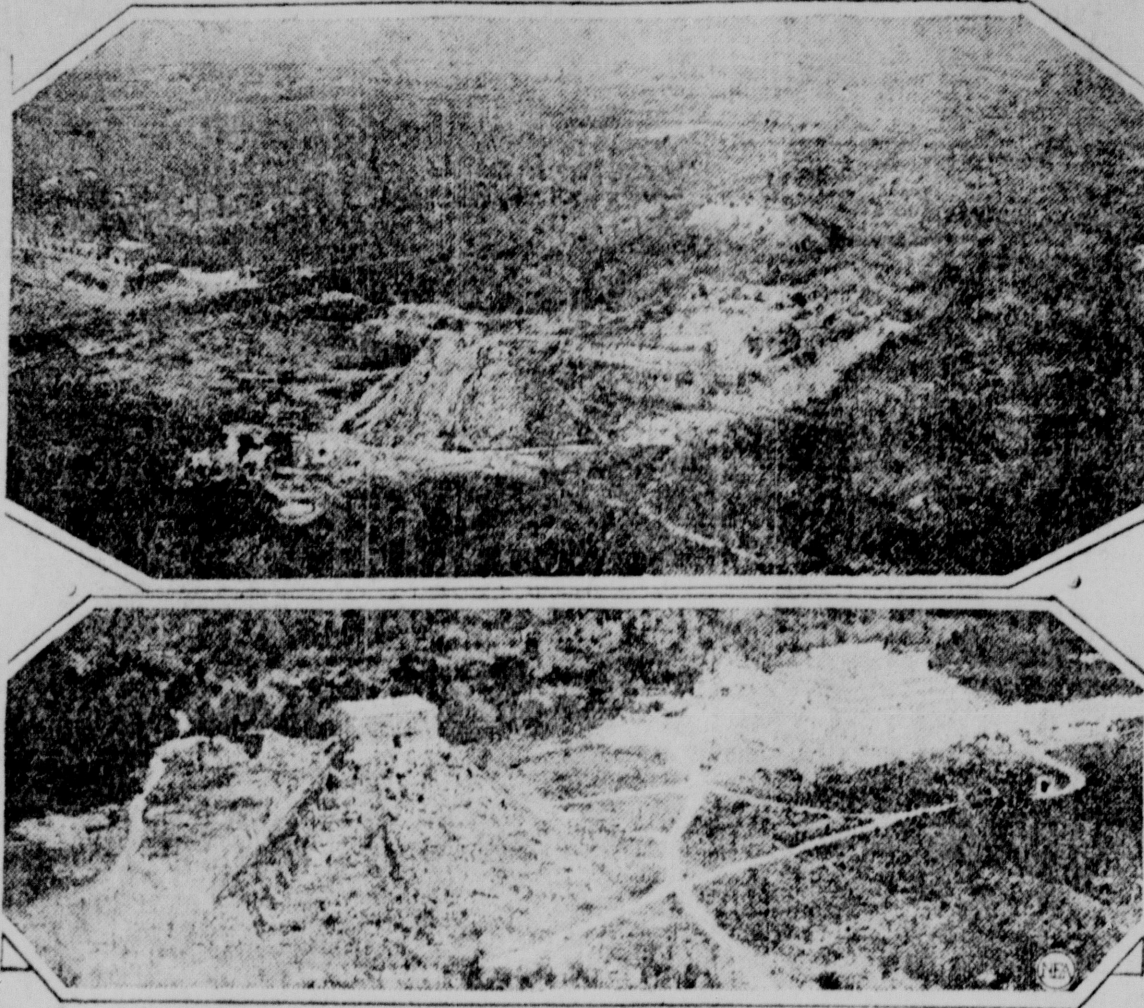

Facing World Issues.

"What happens in the world during the next dozen or twenty years is likely to determine the trend of civilization for the next five hundred years," said Dr. Fulkerson in speaking on "Facing World Issues." "Old governments are toppling and new situations are arising which have a decided bearing in shaping the social, economic, political and religious conditions of the future. New democratic governments are being built on the ruins of the old centralized governments. The masses of people are clamoring for democracy, and yet they are utterly unfitted to bear the responsibilities that go with representative government. The startling percentages of illiteracy to be found in Russia, India, China and Mexico, to say nothing of other countries, constitutes an issue which is taxing the best thought of those countries, and they face the whole problem of making civilization safe.

"The economic situation is also pressing for solution. The cost of existence was never so fearful as it is at the present time. The actual cost of bare existence is from two to three times higher than before the World War. The church must face this problem squarely. Men who are looking into the faces of hungry wives and children will not listen to religion, no matter how it is presented as a theory. You cannot simply preach brotherly love and Christianity to men who are hungry.

Communism An Issue.
"Modern communism had its rise in the midst of conditions such as exist in many parts of the world. This constitutes one of the greatest issues the better forces of the world must face. In my opinion the growing spirit of lawlessness is the greatest single problem that civilization now faces. Race consciousness, to say nothing of social prejudice, dominates a large group of people the world over. We may talk Christianity as we please, but if it fails to Christianize national and group relationships, the world may well question the practical value of what we have been preaching. It is this phase of our Christianity that is being most questioned by the educated Oriental and by student groups in the so-called Christian countries of the world. We are expected to practice what we preach.

Where Lindy Searched for Lost Maya Cities

"If Christianity is to live, it must be something more than a thing to preach about, it must be a practical thing that will change the hearts and minds and actions of the people who profess it. We are taxing ourselves to teach our young people to think, and they certainly are thinking in the field of religion. No generation of young people ever drew more definite conclusions in the matter of religion than the present generation. They believe and I believe that nominal Christianity cannot live in this scientific, thinking age.

"I believe that we are living in a pivotal period in the evolution of God's revelation to humanity. A re-interpretation of Christ and of the Christian message to the world of men is long overdue. The center of it will surely be Christ in the individual life."

400,000 Korean Christians.
There are about 400,000 Korean Christians, or about one Christian in fifty Koreans, the gathering was told by Dr. Hugh Cynn.

"These Christians in Korea," said Dr. Cynn, "out of their paltry earnings, support many of their own churches, build and maintain schools and kindergartens, send and maintain foreign missions, both evangelistic and medical, in Shantung, China. Today the religion of Christ no longer has the monopoly of the field in Korea. A new cult of science is clamoring for enthronement. New social theories are clamoring for recognition. The World War has brought about certain disillusion-economic exploitation are leaving the ments. The clever disciples of unsuspecting and unprepared high and dry. All this gives the anti-religionists and anti-Christians an immense opportunity for destruction.

"I read that you are troubled with communistic propaganda; we, in Korea are more so because of our proximity to the source. I hear that your young people and students are full of questioning; ours are more because we have fewer numbers to answer them. I am told that you have many social problems; ours are more acute because the chasm between classes is wider. The poverty-stricken class, which forms the bulk of the population, is getting desperate under the crushing burden of these problems. We Christians in Korea must give answer to the questions what is to be the fate of these people.

"What we need in Korea is men who will help us to see and realize the life revealed to us. Scientists we have. Social theorists we have in abundance. Servants of might we have too many. Slaves of wealth we have more than enough. Organizers and managers of affairs we have on the horizon. But men of God we have far too few. We want men who will reveal God to us and make us gods."

ple. Real India is coming back to her own."

"One of the most remarkable youth movements in the world is found in the Philippine Islands," said Mr. Stagg. "Youth has taken possession of the land. Our lawyers, doctors, school teachers, legislators, government officials, and leaders are young men and women. The public school has produced an enormous number of educated youth. In Manila, a city of 300,000 population, there are 100,000 students. In this same city there are fourteen colleges and universities and forty-four high schools enrolling 42,000 students. In the area allotted to the Methodist Episcopal Church there are 72,000 high school and college students. This great student body is drifting morally and spiritually. And yet these students are intensely interested in the Christian religion. They will flock in groups of hundreds and sometimes thousands to addresses on religious subjects. During this past year I have addressed personally more than 40,000 high school and college students on religious things. Great numbers of them are being converted, accepting Christ as a personal Savior. We expect during the next ten years to sweep literally thousands of these students into the church. The Philippines today constitute a great student opportunity."

WHEN HOPE WAS LOWEST ANEOLA ROOT SCORED

Man Relieved of Stomach Trouble and Rheumatism—All Else
Had Failed

MR. CARL BRONN

"For several years I was unable to eat a meal without suffering afterward, for my stomach was in a dreadfully disordered condition," said Mr. Carl Bronn, Sioux Falls, S. Dak., Rt. 9. "I bloated with gas, was subject to belching spells, had heart pains and palpitation. Then the rheumatism settled in my hands and legs.

"Aneola Root went right to work; I could almost feel it. In a short time Aneola Root cleansed and stimulated my stomach, restoring my digestion and increasing my appetite. The rheumatism grew less severe and then, like magic, it disappeared entirely. Today I eat, sleep, walk and feel like a different person."

Aneola Root may be obtained at CAMPBELL'S WHITE CROSS DRUG STORE and by all the best Druggists in all the towns throughout this entire section.
